President's Message

Eileen Nexsen

The 2012 Election Season is in full swing, with lots of candidates declaring for office on every level of government. We have LOTS of work to do! the voter turn-out in recent history has been abysmal, and I think one of our club's goals should be to encourage voters to get to the polls. Another mission is to register as many voters as we can. Try to keep a Voter's Registration form with you, and ask your friends, acquaintances and new residents of our community if you can help them register. we cannot allow the Democrats to win the next election because we are too complaisant.

We will do our best to bring as many candidates as possible to speak at our meetings. If there is someone you would like to hear from, let a Board Member know, and we will do our best to get them here. Please remember to invite your friends to the meetings as well. The better educated we are, the better our voting decisions.

Americanism by LaJuana Gillette

As I sit here to compose this article, I wonder what I should make it about...Obama, Obama care, education, immigration...on and on I think. I have decided on the Constitution which is so important, now more than ever.

Our club under the leadership of Diane Klostermier has undertaken a project to educate our children and adults about the Constitution, our flag and Americanism. I think that is extremely important at this time when our Constitution is so misinterpreted and so misunderstood by so many Americans.

America is a nation of freedom and laws, founded upon a written Constitution, which is itself an extension of the particular character of the leaders and pioneers who settled in America. At the time it was conceived, our Constitution, and the system of government it described, was unique in the world.

It was intended to be so. It was written to prevent abuse by government which was so common in the British-ruled America. The Constitution created a different national culture which over the centuries has produced material prosperity even beyond the hope of the founders. It has also produced the freedoms they envisioned and carried forward the moral backbone on which all else is supported.

Sometimes we have unknowingly and gradually exchanged many of our original freedoms for fleeting guarantees of personal and material security, and our moral roots for passing pleasure.

We have passed laws and judgments which make it difficult to recover those freedoms or moral foundations, and created a culture which paints such efforts as uncaring or totalitarian. We, as Republicans have received the bunt of this accusation from the liberals.

We have lost the faith in a Superior Being, once nearly universal, that is the basis for granting freedom, caring for one's neighbors, and establishing a common morality. For nearly two hundred years, immigrants came to America with the vision to become Americans. While they honored their roots within their homes, families and often communities, they joined the nation as Americans. Their efforts helped build and defend this country. Not so today. Many of the immigrants coming to America today are coming illegally, don't want to learn our language and want to remain loyal to their home country. They come for jobs, yes, but they also come to take advantage of our systems, i.e. welfare and anchor babies.

Now we disparage Americanism. The same Americanism which enticed so many millions of foreign nationals to leave their ancestral homes and come here to be Americans and work for America.. The same Americanism that drove the Founding Fathers to risk everything for a new and free nation, and countless men and women in uniform to risk and give their lives on its behalf. Men and Women who are still risking their lives today on the battlefield for our freedom.

Some people refer to love of nation and of national culture as extremism. But that is not the case. One can love his country and his culture while still respecting others. Our very concepts of Faith and Freedom demand that of us.

The global economy, our involvement in foreign squabbles and the bitter and confusing political fad of "multiculturalism" are forcing us to look away from America, away from the ongoing need to build one nation of Americans.

A national culture does not and should not preclude the individual. But, without it we cannot be a nation.

We need to look inwardly again, to what the foundations of our culture were, where they have gone, and how we can get them back.

IF YOU VOTED FOR OBAMA IN 2008 TO PROVE YOU WERE NOT A RACIST, YOU'LL HAVE TO VOTE FOR SOMEONE ELSE IN 2012 TO PROVE YOU'RE NOT AN IDIOT.

By Lou Pritchett, Procter & Gamble

Lou Pritchett is one of corporate America's true living legends- an acclaimed author, dynamic teacher and one of the world's highest rated speakers. Successful corporate executives everywhere recognize him as the foremost leader in change management. Lou changed the way America does business by creating an audacious concept that came to be known as "partnering." Pritchett rose from soap salesman to Vice-President, Sales and Customer Development for Procter and Gamble and over the course of 36 years, made corporate history.

AN OPEN LETTER TO PRESIDENT OBAMA

Dear President Obama:

You are the thirteenth President under whom I have lived and unlike any of the others, you truly scare me.

You scare me because after months of exposure, I know nothing about you.

You scare me because I do not know how you paid for your expensive Ivy League education and your upscale lifestyle and housing with no visible signs of support.

You scare me because you did not spend the formative years of youth growing up in America and culturally you are not an American.

You scare me because you have never run a company or met a payroll.

You scare me because you have never had military experience, thus don't understand it at its core.

You scare me because you lack humility and 'class', always blaming others.

You scare me because for over half your life you have aligned yourself with radical extremists who hate America and you refuse to publicly denounce these radicals who wish to see America fail..

You scare me because you are a cheerleader for the 'blame America' crowd and deliver this message abroad.

You scare me because you want to change America to a European style country where the government sector dominates instead of the private sector.

You scare me because you want to replace our health care system with a government controlled one.

You scare me because you prefer 'wind mills' to responsibly capitalizing on our own vast oil, coal and shale reserves.

You scare me because you want to kill the American capitalist goose that lays the golden egg which provides the highest standard of living in the world.

You scare me because you have begun to use 'extortion' tactics against certain banks and corporations.

You scare me because your own political party shrinks from challenging you on your wild and irresponsible spending proposals.

You scare me because you will not openly listen to or even consider opposing points of view from intelligent people.

You scare me because you falsely believe that you are both omnipotent and omniscient.

You scare me because the media gives you a free pass on everything you do.

You scare me because you demonize and want to silence the Limbaugh's, Hannity's, O'Reilly's and Becks who offer opposing, conservative points of view.

You scare me because you prefer controlling over governing.

Finally, you scare me because if you serve a second term I will probably not feel safe in writing a similar letter in 8 years.

Lou Pritchett

This letter was sent to the NY Times but they never acknowledged it.
Are you surprised? NOT.
