Editor's Corner

The campaigns have begun; petitions are available for our many local elections. For those of us involved it means we hit the pavement, knock on Republican doors to support the politicians that we want to represent us. Now is the time to make the difference. You can endorse the best qualified candidates in the elections. The ones that you believe will best represent the people. The phrase, "All politics is local" is a common phrase in U.S. politics. The former Speaker of the House, Tip O'Neill (D) coined this phrase which encapsulates the principle that a politician's success is directly tied to his ability to understand and influence the issues of his constituents. Politicians must appeal to the simple, mundane and everyday concerns of those who elect them into office. Those personal issues, rather than big and intangible ideas, are often what voters care most about, according to this principle. Politicians often use this against one another, as well, to hit each other where it hurts most—back at home—rather than on the floor of Congress. The concept is contrary to the notion that most people, somehow, in local elections are casting votes to "send a message" to the highest levels; instead, the principle predicts that most people will not vote for local politicians simply as a means to act on feelings about higher politicians, such as concerns about a current U.S. President. The prediction is that most people who vote, or debate issues, are focused on resolving their local issues.

MONTHLY BOOK REVIEW

Betrayed By The Bench, John A. Stormer

John Stormer is an amazing author who has sold over 11 million books. 'None Dare Call It Treason', sold 7 million in 1964 when there was no internet, no faxes, talk shows for conservatives. So, a new book by John Stormer means we can assume that he has something else to say. Indeed he does. In Betrayed by the Bench, Stormer traces the lawlessness of so many of today's rulings to

President's Desk

At our October meeting we will have raffle tickets available for the AzFRW Biennial Convention. There are 3 beautiful pieces of jewelry for the raffle: a multi-colored gemstone bracelet set in sterling silver, a lab-created blue and white sapphire lady's ring in white gold mounting, and a 3/8 karat diamond lady's cocktail ring mounted in white gold. Raffle tickets are $5 apiece, (5 tickets for $20). As I was writing my report for the AzFRW Convention, I realized how much our club has accomplished in two years. We have had very capable boards, our membership has grown, we have had very interesting and informative programs, over half of the revolt against the common law that is Christian through and through. The revolt was led from the Harvard Law School by professors such as its Dean, Roscoe Pound. The replacement was the tyranny of case law. The case law preferred by Pound and his followers allowed them to slip out from under the constraints of the timeless and universal precepts foundational to the Common Law. Case law allows judges to "make law." One of Pound's followers, Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, made this amazing statement: "We are under a constitution, but the constitution is what we say it is." Equally as amazing as Hughes' assertion was the failure to impeach him for violating his oath of office. But as Stormer points out, the idea of absolutes binding men died in the pulpits before it died in the civil realm. Stormer calls the result of judicial lawmaking "an on-going Constitutional Convention." I would call it a coup d'etat. This coup has been hard to spot because the judges did not have a bunch of colonels circling the seat of government with tanks. We have witnessed a coup by increments something that is much harder to detect. There has been a concerted effort to exclude the Declaration of Independence from the corpus of binding law. This is a legal impossibility in view of the nature of the Declaration it is a contract much the same as Articles of Incorporation are. No one is at liberty to unilaterally change the terms of a contract. Our fourth president, John Quincy Adams, had this to say about the foundational role of the Declaration for the Constitution and laws made pursuant to it: "The virtue which had been infused into the Constitution of the United States...was no other than...those abstract principles which had been first proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence namely the self-evident truths of the natural and unalienable rights of man...and the sovereignty of the people, always subordinate to the rule of right and wrong, and always responsible to the Supreme Ruler of the universe for the rightful exercise of that power". This was the platform upon which the Constitution of the United States had been erected. The boldness of the Court's usurpation is somewhat like the old line of the crook who is caught in the act exclaiming, "Who do you believe, me or your lying eyes?" To give but one example, consider the 14th Amendment. The 39th Congress expressly stipulated that the Amendment was not designed to control schools, voting and elections. Indeed, that was so well understood that the 15th Amendment was enacted in order to deal with voting. The record of the clear intent of the framers of the 14th Amendment has not stopped the Supreme Court from inventing the doctrine of incorporation out of thin air. This has allowed the Supremes to increase consolidation of power in their own hands (and in the hands of their willing accomplices in the legislative and the executive branches) in Washington. This has been done at the expense of the Constitutional reservation of most governmental powers to the states and to the people. Gun owners are not surprised when the gun control laws of some other thugocracy such as Cuba form the basis of a Supreme rape of the 2nd Amendment. Americans generally should not be surprised at any unconstitutional notion the Supremes may take into their heads. One challenge we face in freeing ourselves from this judicial tyranny is that they have the benefit of a mind fake that has us believing that anything, no matter how outrageous, that comes out of the mouth of a judge is law. Hence we see other government officials who have all taken the same oath of office to uphold the Constitution violating their oaths by obeying unconstitutional edicts of the Supreme Court. This is otherwise known as "upholding the rule of law." Of course, it is anything but.

State of the Club Address by Brianna Rolan

Each new TARS board brings a fresh outlook for our club. We are preparing for the election year of 2012. We not only work with political candidates, we also volunteer on many community service projects, such as a "Feeding the Homeless" group, collecting pop taps for dialysis patients, and others. Our club also has a vibrant social life. Every year, we plan a variety of social events which brings the club closer together. On every second Friday of the month, we hold a business meeting, where we organize different events and listen to a variety of speakers. Over the past years, the club has been graced with the presence of some very notable individuals. Recently, Arizona Secretary of State Ken Bennett visited our club as a speaker for the annual Leadership Conference. Dean Martin, former State Treasurers, is another speaker our club has had the pleasure to host. TARS is not just about educating young people about politics, but also a great opportunity to get involved in the political system, teaching leadership skills and responsibility.

Thank God I'm Republican

By Ken Bennett AZ Sec'y State To the Tune "Thank God I'm a Country Boy"

Well life in Arizona is kinda laid back
Ain't much an ol' Prescott boy like me can't hack
Now all we gotta do is take Washington back!

Thank God I'm Republican!

Living in our means never did us no harm, while
The President thinks money grows on a farm
His policies suck, and he's runnin' outta charm!

Thank God I'm Republican!

Here we got us a Gov'ner, the House and the Senate
While the Democrats cry and complain ev'ry minute
Whoever we choose - he or she is gonna win it!

Thank God I'm Republican!

You can vote in our elections if you show some I D
But you have to be a citizen - with no felonies
If you come into our country, use the front door please!

Thank God I'm American!

The Redistricting Commission is meeting out of order.
The Arizona Republic is down to three reporters.
Hey Napolitano could you please secure the Border!

Thank God I'm Republican!

Here we got us a Gov'ner, the House and the Senate
While the Democrats cry and complain ev'ry minute
Whoever we choose - he or she is gonna win it!

Thank God I'm Republican!

Obama gives a speech so we think he really cares
The economy's so bad it has given him gray hair
The first thing we should do is repeal Obamacare!

Thank God I'm Republican!

We don't need higher taxes, the spending is too high
He's asking for more money, but he can't tell us why
His lips are still moving, so here comes another lie!

We need a Republican!

Here we got us a Gov'ner, the House and the Senate
While the Democrats cry and complain ev'ry minute
Whoever we choose - he or she is gonna win it!

Corona Teenage Republican Club, will be having their Meeting:
Thursday 10/20 @ 2:30PM in Room E-262

Brandi Barnes, the Founding President of the Corona Teenage Republicans, has been recognized as a 2011-2012 Discus Award winner for her achievements in the areas of Athletics, Academics, and Community Service.

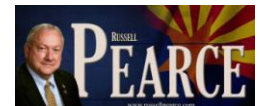

The Discus Awards is a national program that provides recognition and scholarship opportunities to all-around high school students who excel in three of ten key attributes. Brandi is now eligible for 2011-2012 Discus Awards scholarships. Community Service highlights the types of participation: she has served numerous needy families' holiday dinners, participated in many parades, and many roadway cleanups. She has volunteered at the American Cardiomyopathy Foundation, and on political campaigns. Brandi was the top fundraiser for the American Heart Association and volunteered at McClintock HS with the biology dept. caring for pets during summer, served as a tutor and volunteered as a guide at freshman orientation.

You have probably heard of the effort to RECALL me from public office. That's right. A group of left-wing community organizers are abusing Arizona's election process and are trying to have me recalled because of my tough legislation against illegal immigration. They don't like the laws that I sponsor, like SB 1070. They spent tens of thousands of dollars to collect petition signatures to force a recall election this November. (We don't know how much they raised or spent because they refuse to disclose where the money came from!). I am now preparing for the toughest campaign of my life. We already know that the organizers of this recall effort have deep ties to big labor union bosses, the open-borders and amnesty crowd and are going to pour tons of money into my legislative district to remove me from office. It was recently reported that President Obama and his Administration have instituted a back-door amnesty plan for those who are in our country illegally. He has intentionally avoided having the law changed by Congress because he knows he doesn't have enough votes. This means that those of us who care for and respect the rule of law must re-double our efforts to stop any amnesty scheme for those who have broken the law. I will continue to sponsor and support tough illegal immigration laws, but I can't do so if they're successful in removing me from office. I simply cannot compete with the local and national media that distort my record and the job I'm doing to protect this country. The Washington Times recently reported that this campaign against me could be the most expensive legislative race in our state's history. Your support for my campaign is critical. If you agree that we must stand by the rule of law, I humbly ask for your financial contribution today. This will be an expensive campaign, but with the support of good people like you, we'll be victorious this Nov. Please make a much-needed contribution today. I cannot thank you enough for your support! Will you stand with me to stop this recall? I've never backed down from a fight and I'm not about to start now. This recall campaign, if successful, will be just the beginning of a concerted effort to remove conservatives nationwide. We can't let that happen!

Our thanks to Sheriff Joe for his appearance as our guest speaker at our Sept. 26th meeting. Sheriff Joe is always very entertaining and very informative. We got the real lowdown on the pink underwear, the tents, the dog program as well as the TV shows the prisoners get to watch and how much the green bologna costs. Lastly that the good Sheriff has a cat house program that is a great success and it isn't what you think. Like the dogs training and care that the prisoners participate in the cats are being rescued and the program is a huge success. Our Joe has a very long and impressive history in the law enforcement field and we are lucky to have the most famous sheriff on the planet. Rebecca Mahan informed us of the border tours and passed a sign up sheet for trips down to the border to see for ourselves the actual dangerous conditions and the failure of the current administration including our former Governor to secure our borders. Anyone who is interested in going on one of the trips can contact Rebecca Mahan or Barbara Medal if you would like to sign up and get the details; the cost is about $40-$50 for the van rental and the gas, a volunteer (not paid) tour guide is provided trip starts at 7am return home by 11:00pm.

A. J. LaFaro the LD17 Chairman extended an invitation to the membership to attend the District meeting and get an opportunity to meet and participate in a Q & A with the Candidates Michael Monti (Tempe Mayor) and Dick Foreman (Tempe Councilman).

5 COGENT SENTENCES

It's all so simple, but #3 says it all most beautifully and succinctly...These are possibly the 5 best sentences you'll ever read:

1. You cannot legislate the poor into prosperity by legislating the wealthy out of prosperity.
2. What one person receives without working for, another person must work for without receiving.
3. The government cannot give to anybody anything that the government does not first take from somebody else.
4. You cannot multiply wealth by dividing it!
5. When half of the people get the idea that they do not have to work because the other half is going to take care of them, and when the other half gets the idea that it does no good to work because somebody else is going to get what they work for, that is the beginning of the end of any nation. Submitted by Sue Pullar

Americanism Chairwoman Rebecca shared many good factoids, her favorites were:

Because of his poor health, Benjamin Franklin needed help to sign the Constitution. As he did so, tears streamed down his face.

There was a proposal at the Constitutional Convention to limit the standing army for the country to 5,000 men. George Washington sarcastically agreed with this proposal as long as a stipulation was added that no invading army could number more than 3,000 troops!
